

Captain Graybeard's Pirate Treasure Hunt

Captain Graybeard is a pirate with a problem – too many barnacles on the brain. He keeps forgetting things, important things like which end of the ship is up. Help him by filling in the answers for each number from 1-15. The clues will be right in front of you, sort of, although you may have to put your pirate hat on and use your imagination to figure out the answers. Your journey will take you to four fascinating lands. You might just get a reward from Graybeard's treasure for your help. Arrh!

Tropical Cove

Ahoy mateys! I need yer help t get me ship ready t' sail fer adventure on t' high seas. First I'm goin' t' need a bird for me shoulder that can keep me company (1). Come to think o' it, I needs me an ocean t' sail (2) and some really light wood t' keep on hand (3) if I have t' abandon ship.

Butterfly Garden

(The Butterfly Garden closes after 6 PM but you can use the Butterfly ID Chart outside the entrance to answer.)
I need me some bilge rats t' man me ship (4). And I needs me a map of sorts (5) and maybe some dry, salty food (6).

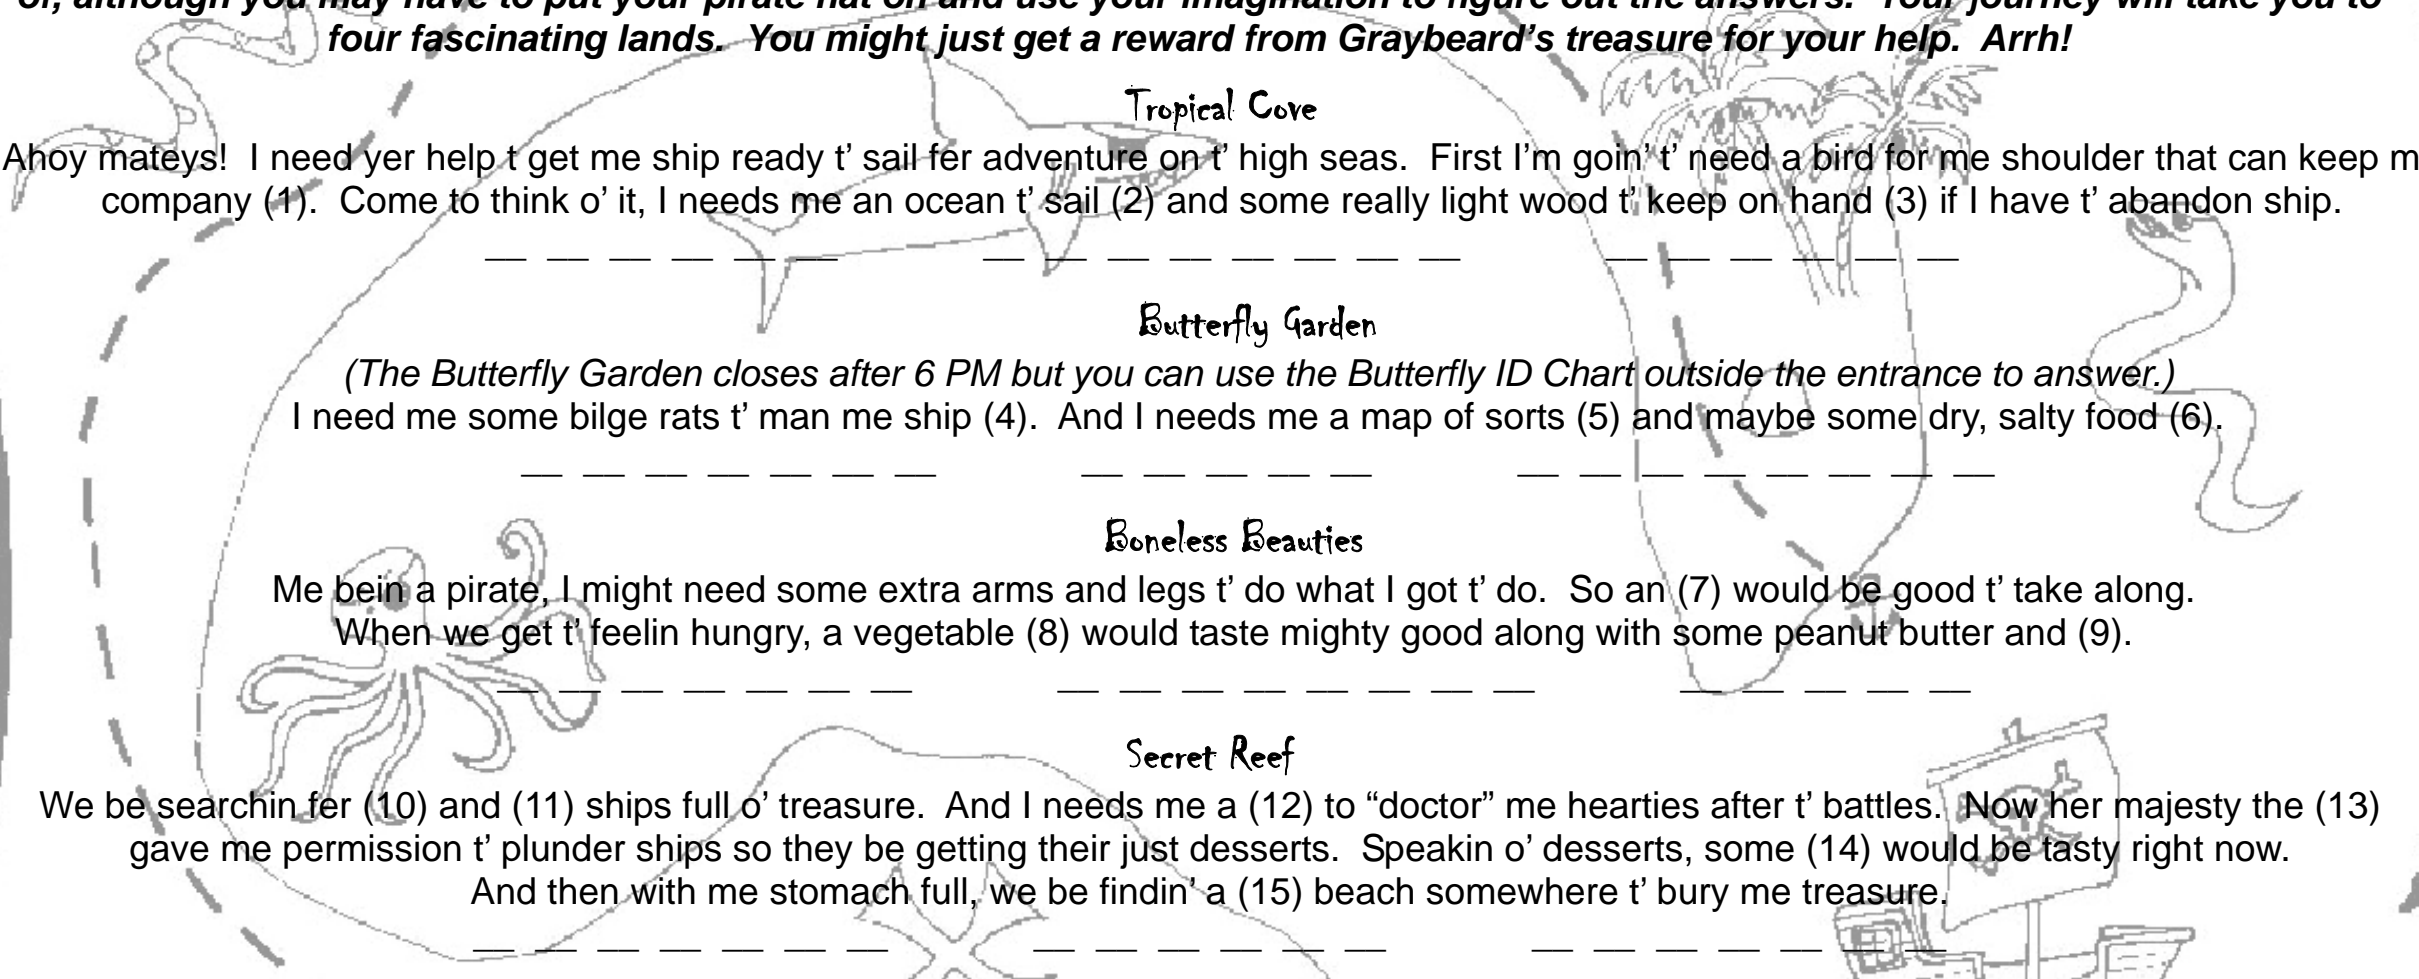

Boneless Beauties

Me bein a pirate, I might need some extra arms and legs t' do what I got t' do. So an (7) would be good t' take along. When we get t' feelin hungry, a vegetable (8) would taste mighty good along with some peanut butter and (9).

Secret Reef

We be searchin fer (10) and (11) ships full o' treasure. And I needs me a (12) to "doctor" me hearties after t' battles. Now her majesty the (13) gave me permission t' plunder ships so they be getting their just desserts. Speakin o' desserts, some (14) would be tasty right now. And then with me stomach full, we be findin' a (15) beach somewhere t' bury me treasure.
